Forecast for Friday 13 May 2022

Weather: Some cloud around during the morning with perhaps the odd spot of rain, but increasing amounts of sunshine soon developing and dry through the afternoon and evening. A breezy day however with strong southwesterly winds on the summits through much of the day. Some lower cloud developing into the evening in the west of the range.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 600m: 80%, becoming 100% by the afternoon.

Low cloud and visibility: Occasional cloud above 300-400m at first, particularly for western parts of the range, but lifting and clearing summits into the late morning and afternoon. Into the evening some isolated patches of cloud forming above around 200m for windward slopes. Very good visibilities outside of any cloud with distant hills clearly visible.
